The police secured possession of the body of Mrs. Knight, which was written by Knight from Cheyenne. The body is now in the hands of the police. Mrs. Knight's being poisoned was ascertained by the police. The investigation began Knight's flight without stopping to draw the body.

Albany, April 13.—One hundred representative men of the Democratic party of New York sat down at the banquet of the state Democratic educational association in celebration of the birthday of Thomas Jefferson. Former United States Senator David B. Hill was the chief speaker.

"The Empire State Democracy" came in for his attention. He attacked the prominent policies of the present Republican administration in this state, especially assailing the various measures adopted to secure the adoption of direct taxation for state purposes. This he characterized as measures designed to cover up a deficit in the state treasury.

The excise law Mr. Hill denounced as purely partisan legislation, designed to punish the large cities, especially New York, for holding to the Democratic party. He ridiculed the policies of President Roosevelt as vainglorious and unduly tender of the great monopolies, and said the whole Republican administration was characterized by delay in dealing with the trust question. His final plea was for Democratic harmony, which he declared would assure victory for the party.

Soldiers Will Appeal.

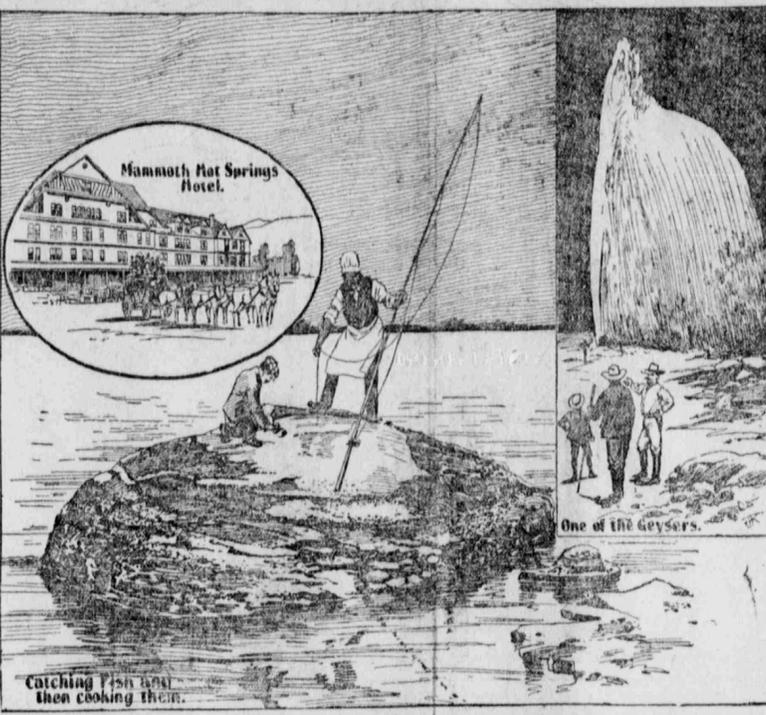

St. Louis, April 13.—Eight suits involving the liberty of twenty United States soldiers now imprisoned in the Leavenworth penitentiary were brought in the United States court of appeals today.

The contention of the soldiers is that the sentences of the court-martial is not state whether they should be imprisoned at a military post or a penitentiary and that their imprisonment at hard labor was directed.

The army regulations of 1901, they allege, require that the sentence of the court-martial shall state specifically whether imprisonment should be in a military post or a penitentiary. They say the sentence to hard labor is in excess of the regulation. The writs are made returnable in St. Paul May 4.

ONE OF THE GEYSERS.

SOME OF THE WONDERS OF YELLOWSTONE PARK, WHICH THE PRESIDENT IS VISITING.

YELLOWSTONE PARK covers about 3,000 square miles and is filled with wonders—picturesque water falls, mammoth geysers that spout boiling water, boiling springs, great terraces of matters thrown up by the geysers, towering mountains and herds of buffalo and elk. Fishermen, standing on a hot spring one in one of the park's lakes, catch fish in the lake and then cook them on the hook in the spring that boils within the cone beneath their feet.

The examination of the patient was finally passed upon favorably. Occasionally some creditable professor would ask him a question he could not answer and he would reply: "That's too deep for me." or "I will have to give that up." He created an excellent impression by his frank, honest manner and the rapidity with which he replied to questions.

Mountain Sheep and Antelope—Private Car Elysian is a Sort of Traveling White House.

Cinnabar, Mont., April 13.—President Roosevelt is having the time of his life in the national park. Just now he is about thirty miles from Fort Yellowstone, in the midst of a herd of elk. In a few days he will move to another camp where he can observe buffalo, mountain sheep and antelope.

He writes all official communications to heads of different departments in Washington, answers letters from bureau chiefs, and decides all questions that are ordinarily passed up to the president.

The private car Elysian is, therefore, the temporary White House. A little desk, built into the dining room of the car, is Deputy President Loeb's office and cabinet room combined. Asst. Secy. Burrows might be termed the cabinet.

I shall get other rooms right in this block. I have not taken to Fort Totten guardhouse, still wearing evening clothes. All day Sunday he was confined there.

Yesterday he was taken, under guard, for an interview with Capt. Bailey. As he came out, he handed to the sentry a release, saying, "Give that to the sergeant." The sergeant, recognizing the order for release and the clerk went to his tent. Hastily bundling his civilian's clothes together, he swam the creek which separates the fort from the main land and disappeared. Just as it became known that the "release" was also a forgery.

Before the banquet the board of governors met and practically decided that the proposed memorial to Jefferson to be erected in this city shall take the form of a building.

Crowned With Golden Coronet.

Chicago, April 14.—Kneeling before the high altar in the chapel of St. Xavier academy, surrounded by black veiled sisters and white robed novices, Sister M. Victoire Bosse has been crowned with a golden coronet in token of her 50 years of service in the order of the sisters of mercy. Half a century ago on Easter Monday Celina Bosse, a girl of 15, took the final vows of the order and became Sister M. Victoire. Today, at 69, she is still an active worker in the order.

The morning mass was celebrated in the chapel, Bishop Muidon officiating, assisted by priests from nearly all the important Roman Catholic churches of Chicago. In the afternoon the ceremony of coronation was held.

Letter From Prominent Democrat.

New York, April 14.—Letters from former President Cleveland, Wm. J. Bryan and ex-Senator David B. Hill, were read at last night's Thomas Jefferson dinner of the Tammany Hall general committee of the 35th assembly district. Mr. Cleveland wrote: "In the crowded incidents and constantly changing conditions of our people's life, new issues and new subjects of political thought and action must frequently present themselves to the rest of democratic judgment. The only sincere way for our party to deal with these is to discover their character and their tendencies for good or evil and thereupon to treat them in such a manner as will recognize constitutional restrictions and the necessity of state conservatism, while at the same time we keep in sight, as our unflinching guide and the truest object of our political endeavor, a conscientious regard for the best and highest interest of the people of the land without favoritism or unjust discrimination."

Mr. Bryan, in his letter, said: "I trust that the banquet will inspire those present to imitate Jefferson in a fight for the application of democratic principles of government without compromise with plutocracy or concessions to timorous and 'plutocratic' interests."

In his letter written from Wolfers Roost, former Senator Hill announced that "A United Democracy can win the great contest in 1904 and rout the forces of plutocracy."

Edward M. Chubb, referring to the national administration spoke of President Roosevelt practically as a firebrand who is teaching the nation to despair war.

Miser Patrick Flynn Dead.

Belvidere, N. J., April 14.—Patrick Flynn, 82 years old, known as the miser and hoarder of hoards of money, has been found dead in his hotel. He had not been seen for several days and neighbors entered his home and found him sitting in an improvised chair, his head on one side. Flynn had never been married and all the money that came into his possession he hoarded. He would not trust any of the banks, but kept it all in the room he called home. The house was barricaded front and back, and no one could have broken in without a long search.

It was known that the old man had money and when the searchers broke open his trunk they found a pile of bank bills covered with mold. Out of the old rags on which he slept many pieces of gold and silver were found. He was an old man in one corner. It had some rusty floor in it, and in the bottom was a bag of silver coin.

In the weather boards, in the chimney under the rafters, in fact, wherever the men searched they found money. When counted the money found amounted to nearly $3,000, in gold, silver, bills and pennies.

It was learned that Flynn had a sister living in New York and she was at a telegraph office. The sister had been married and the money found was a small part of the wealth of her brother and ordered the search resumed.

Havoc Caused by a Beast.

New York, April 14.—Much havoc was caused in the Bronx yesterday by a blast fired in the work of cutting one Hundred and seventy-second street through from Third avenue to Fulton avenue. This cutting is through an immense wall of solid rock. The blast broke the windows of more than a score of houses in Third avenue and the shock knocked down several children who were on their way to school, injuring some of them slightly.

A fragment of rock weighing about half a ton was sent crashing through a frame house, tearing holes through four partitions and the front and rear walls and demolishing a piano and several articles of furniture.

Fragments of rock broke the window of a dentist operating room, covering the dentist and a patient with broken glass. Ten blocks from the blast, a window against which a baby was pressing its face, was broken, but the baby escaped harm. A woman ill from heart disease in the same house swooned and needed the attention of a physician for hours afterwards.

The foreman in charge of the operations was arrested and arraigned in court, but the magistrate pardoned him to appear today.

Col. Lynch's Health Bad.

Lynch, who is undergoing a sentence of life imprisonment for high treason in aiding and abetting the Boers in their war against Great Britain, are greatly concerned about his health in prison, cables the Tribune's correspondent in London. Plot Was Primarily Directed Against The Manchurian Dynasty—Gunboats of Other Nations Assisted.

Washington, April 13.—Quick action and common sense treatment of a critical situation by an American naval officer in China recently saved the foreign residents in the province of Quong Tung, on the east bank of the Cantow river, from falling victims to a plot, which, while directed primarily against the Manchurian dynasty, inevitably would have culminated in an attack on the foreign population. While this attack was averted by the precautionary measures taken by Commander F. J. Drake, commanding the United States ship Monterey, with the assistance of the English gunboats Sandpiper and Britonart, the French gunboat Avanche and the German tug Shamen, the coalition known to have fermented the trouble extends to several provinces, and official advices received at both the state and navy departments show that reactionary measures on a scale far larger than is admitted either by foreign representatives of the Chinese government, have been planned by the rebels.

Hearing that a force of rebels led by Hung Chun, a native of Wachow, had planned an attack on the viceroys and Chinese officials of Canton during the celebration of the Chinese new year during the nights of Jan. 28 and 29, Commander Drake prepared to defend the foreign residents. An armed force of 3,000 men had entered Canton surreptitiously several days before he learned the news and were hiding with sympathizers.

As most of the foreigners and official representatives of the nations resided in Shamen, Commander Drake first completed his plan of defense and then, to allay the excitement which prevailed, he officially informed the consulates and Chinese officials of his preparations and advised the commanders of the English, German and French gunboats of the line of action to be pursued in case Shamen island was attacked. The foreign consuls agreed to meet any trouble that developed, whether on the island or on the water.

Instead of visiting the holy temple in the inner city at midnight to offer incense, the viceroys and officials, contrary to long custom, remained in their yamens securely guarded. Around the viceroys yamen alone assembled 4,000 armed troops. By 7 o'clock the gates to the city were closed and the streets stripped of action. Many arrests were made that night and large amounts of stores were seized in houses and shops in Fong Chung and Fates, opposite Shamen.

Many other indications of the intended attack were found and the officials agreed that the rebels abandoned their plot only because of Commander Drake's discovery and his prompt action and that of the foreign commanders in taking ample precautionary measures. The landing of an armed force from each of the foreign warships had been agreed on by the American, English and French commanders at the first evidence of attack.

Germany Will Keep Record.
New York, April 14.—Germany is not likely to lose her transatlantic record for some time to come, says the London representative of the Tribune. The contracts for the new Cunard Liners have not yet been placed, and the new North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II, which will leave Bremen today on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic will, it is confidently expected, wrest from the Kronprinz Wilhelm the honor of being the fastest transatlantic liner afloat, and as she is over 700 feet long she will be the longest. Some idea of the magnitude of the new steamer may be judged from the fact that she has eight decks and four sets of quadruple expansion engines, an aggregate of 40,000 horsepower. There is accommodation for 775 first class, 343 second class and 150 average passengers and the crew will number over 600.

Cuban Congressmen Fight a Duel.
New York, April 14.—Congressmen Villuendas and Garmendia fought a duel with swords on Sunday, says the Tribune's Havana correspondent. Senator Garmendia was wounded slightly in the right wrist. Four congressmen acted as seconds. The duel was the result of words exchanged in the lower house on April 6, when Villuendas called Garmendia a little rude, ugly party and needed the attention of a physician for hours afterwards.

The foreman in charge of the operations was arrested and arraigned in court, but the magistrate pardoned him to appear today.

The Detroit Off for Montevideo.
New York, April 14.—The cruiser Detroit has left here for Montevideo after a banquet which was tendered by the chief of the dock yard, says the Herald's Punta Arenas, Argentina, correspondent.

Commander Tillman said he would advise his government of the necessity of establishing a naval station in Chilean waters and would suggest that a warship be kept in the strait of Magellan.
